Fast Express Courier Ltd. (FECL) is an innovative overnight delivery company that helped change the way companies do business. It was the first company to offer an overnight delivery system, but the company markets more than just a delivery service. What FECL really sells is on-time reliability. The company markets risk reduction and provide the confidence that people shipping packages will be “absolutely, positively, certain their packages will be there by 10.30 in the morning”.

In fact, FECL sells even more than reliable delivery. It designs tracking and inventory management systems for many large companies. In other words, the customers buy more than just delivery service they buy a solution to their distribution problems. For example, a warehouse designed and operated by FECL is part of the distribution centre for a very large computer firm. In other organizations, customers can place an order for inventory as late as midnight, and the marketer, because of FECL’s help, can guarantee delivery by the next morning. FECL has positioned itself as a company with a service that solves its customer’s problems.

Questions:

- 3 What is FECL’s product? What are the tangible and intangible elements of this service product?
- 4 What are the elements of service quality for a delivery service like FECL?
- 5 In what way does technology influence FECL’s service quality?

Q4) Case Study:

A.R. Rao was angry and fed up. He had just delivered a large consignment of packed broilers to the local buyer and understood that the prices he received did not even cover the costs of production. His business friend Kumar who was discussing with Rao sympathised and said “I was in the main market an hour ago and prices of broilers are up”. “There is something wrong here”, both Rao and Kumar agreed.

The next day Rao and Kumar met a number of other unhappy and grumbling broiler producers to discuss the problem. In the meeting, one of the members said: “It is the middlemen who create problems and get large business.

They buy low, sell high and pocket our profit”. “What can we do about it?” said Kumar. One member suggested “we need to eliminate the greedy middlemen from the rural market. We must operate our own marketing facilities and sell direct to customers or end users. “This is the only way we can get 100% of consumer’s money”.

Rao interfered and cautioned – “It would cost a lot of money. Are we capable of entering into wholesaling and retailing?”

Kumar replied, “That is not my cup of tea. I am a chick and broiler producer. I am not a market man”.

An elderly villager in the meeting said: “It sounds risky and complicated. Marketing has so many ifs and buts and the area are vast”.

Questions:

- 6 What advice will you give to Rao, Kumar and their friends in broiler marketing or on their plan of entering into wholesale and retail business?
- 7 What are the pros and cons of the proposal to eliminate middlemen from rural marketing? Discuss with reference to poultry, eggs, broilers and the meat business.
- 8 Examine the factors influencing channel design decisions.
- 9 How do you select channel members?
